His wife and the wife, who figured as a star in the case, have been arrested, suspected of murdering him.

FRIDAY, SEPT. 22, 1899.

The people who heard Gen. Taylor's speech in Yellow park last evening were in no wise disappointed. It was a sound, logical talk, fully in keeping with the mind and character of the nominee. There were no false statements, no personalities, no coarse allusions, a marked contrast to the majority of the other campaign speeches heard here. The gathering which heard him were entertained and instructed and their liberal applause attested the fact clearly that they endorsed the speech. Gen. Taylor's election as governor of the state will redound to the good of the people, and that he is to be elected is a matter of congratulation.

A convention to consider the construction of a deep waterway between the Mississippi and the great lakes, by way of the Illinois river, will be held at Peoria, October 10.

During Cleveland's last administration, the foreign exports of the United States averaged $67,000,000 a month. Thus far during McKinley's term the average has been $92,000,000 a month.

The Dreyfus pardon is a striking proof of the fact that no cabal, no interest, and no country can long resist the intelligently formed and consistently voiced public opinion of the world.

The proposed honest election league will do much towards saving Kentucky from great disgrace and perhaps much bloodshed. Let the league be organized for the double good indicated in these few lines.

The color line which has suddenly revealed itself in Cuban politics raises an issue which may be relied upon to aid the movement for annexation which is gaining strength every day in the island.

May street is sprinkled frequently by the city, presumably to prevent the wind from blowing away the $700 worth of gravel placed on four blocks of it. The street roller put in hard days work on it and still the gravel, it is said, does not cement.

The cool weather has had one good effect on the state canvass. It has compelled the "Kenton statesman" to wear his coat when addressing his hearers, the ladies especially. It is not an ill wind which thus compels Mr. Goebel to be dignified to the extent named.

The Goebelties are claiming the silent vote but they are reckoning without knowledge. This is the very vote which will give the Kenton statesman his death blow. Here as everywhere else the noisy vote is for Goebel and the silent vote for Taylor and Bowen.

A gentleman heard that the Lang men were betting 2 to 1 on Goebel and this morning went around to a Lang headquarters and produced a roll of money he had got off the pay car yesterday. He planned the money down as if he meant business, but the champions of Goebel declined to bet but fifty cents on the dollar.

It is probable that Mr. Harry G. Tandy will resign the position of election commissioner to which he was appointed yesterday, or decline it, which will amount to the same thing. Mr. Tandy is a virtually a candidate, as he expects office under the Goebel administration, and it would not be right for him to sit on his own case, as it were. It was a direct refusal to appoint him, in the first place, under the circumstances.

The Owensboro Messenger up to its eyes yesterday had failed to refer to the interview of Captain Stone of last week, in which interview Mr. Woodson, the proprietor and editor of the Messenger, was charged by the captain with treachery, deceit, and also with lying. The people are somewhat surprised that Mr. Woodson with so much the advantage in the case seems disposed to rest under the charges brought by the captain. But perhaps Mr. Woodson is like the little boy.

The Hopkinsville New Era puts the question thus—a most ridiculous one: "Now, honestly, whether you like Goebel or not, wouldn't you rather have him for governor than the L. and N?" If the selection of either was probable the answer of every man of brains to the nonsensical query would be: Give us the L. and N.; that would mean continued prosperity for the L. and N. is an enterprising company, which employs many most worthy people and distributes much money in the way of salaries, is not caring to rob the people of their suffrage that a clique may steal the offices and rich from the taxpayers, and is not going about the state threatening to run from its confines institutions which it cannot control, and slandering and then murdering. The answer would verily be never give us Goebel, with his political perfidy, his slanderous tongue, his cold heart, his malice, his hatred, his jealousy and last but not least, his rule or ruin disposition for the people are not all idle-sounding phrases, who would rather vote for a yellow dog nominee without principle than a man with principles for men rather than nominees, certainly not. But the next governor of Kentucky will be General Taylor, so why ask such a question at all.

The campaign in Ohio will be a picturesque one, and the immense floating vote of the Buckeye state will reveal in cleaver when Mr. Hanna taps his barrel to effect Mr. McLean's barrel. Meanwhile the campaign in Ohio McKinley's state waxes warm and furious, and with a fair ballot and an honest count we believe Mr. McLean's barrel will make Mr. Hanna's barrel see all sorts of things before the campaign in Ohio is closed.

Why? IS THE QUESTION.

New Haven, Conn. (Democrat) Why the leaders of Democracy are willing to sacrifice the party for the sake of gratifying a whim of Wm. Goebel is more than we can understand. He cannot be elected governor. He has no claim on the people for support but those steeped in fraud which the people refuse to recognize. His campaign has been one of mistakes. He has aroused antagonism in every form, many of which in themselves are sufficient to defeat him. He cares nothing for the party, if he did he would not continue leading it to defeat. He cares nothing for Bryan, if he did he would not ask him to enter a family quarrel where the outsider always getticked. He says he will not with draw trying to show that he is bigger than the party and a boss of the people from whom he gets his power. You can make him and assist by with drawing your support.

REMAINS UNANSWERED.

Louisville Post: "Col. Caldwell's open letter to Mr. Goebel asking for information as to what member of the Hoffman family was in the penitentiary has not been answered. This reminds us that Capt. Stone's charges of betrayal have also failed to be met, and that Caldwell's statement that Goebel was anxious to carry Kentucky for him and the gold standard in 1896, meets with a silence so very great that it can be heard from one of the states to the other."

THE BALLOT AND THE LABORING MAN.

Louisville Post: In America all men have the right to propose any law for the consideration of their fellow-citizens, leaving the decision to the ballot.

This is alike the safeguard of the oppressed or the distressed and the safety of society.

It follows that to the laboring man the ballot is his chief bulwark. He must guard it with the utmost diligence. He must as firmly oppose the man who would corrupt it as the man who would restrict it or take it from him. He must see that the law establishes it on foundations that cannot be moved and in a position where it cannot be assailed.

for a time, the sense of fair play and the inborn belief that justice is the right of every citizen, without regard to his calling, will eventually right the wrong. But now there is an attempt made to take the ballot from him in common with every Kentuckian, and with the going of the ballot the one legal weapon of the Kentucky workman is gone.

"Of what use are forms of law when the substance of justice is taken away? This Goebel election law has all the outward forms of right, but when it is examined what is found? That the final and uncontrolled exercise of power is vested in three men, not chosen by the people and not responsible to the people, and who were elected by the very legislature which enacted the iniquitous measure. American workmen cannot stand for any such law as the Goebel election law, and Kentucky workmen are as their brothers in other states. What has been done in Kentucky will be done in other states, and the success of the working of the Goebel election law in November will be followed by similar enactments in other states until the exercise of the right of suffrage will be a screaming farce."

Let this be repeated at every gathering of laboring men.

"American workmen cannot stand for any such law as the Goebel election law."

The state seems awakening to the vital issues involved in this campaign; awakening to the fact that this that freedom hold dear is involved in this campaign. Major Johnston, who led the Democrats in 1896 and again in 1897, says with great force in his recent address:

"It would be puerile to divide about gold and silver while you are being stripped of the dignity that belongs to every citizen of a free country. The time is on when you must stand unflinchingly for your liberties and your manhood. Tolerate no invasion in your midst who boasts openly, or by insinuation, his willingness to steal an election, nor let it be understood that any man who commits such a crime does it at his peril."

That, after all, is the watchword of the campaign, a free and untrammeled ballot. Fraudulent primaries, fraudulent conventions, a campaign of falsehood and false pretense, all follow fast on a legislative crime such as is the Goebel election law. Let us redeem the ballot, for in so doing we save the party and redeem the state.

"Let it be understood that any man who steals an election does it at his peril."

Hon. Phil H. Thompson, Jr., the jurist, who has investigated the question, declares the Goebel election law did not pass the legislature in a legal way and therefore is not binding on the people. The question is answered by a jurist whose association is worthy of consideration and the matter should get into the courts, in some way, without delay. The iniquity should be defeated, if it be possible.

Why should the formation of a party cause so much objection? The ordinary plea surely calls for such reasoning on the part of the extor, even though he be a "noble."

Says the Breckinridge News: "What Goebel and Woodson did to Stone was a plenty to kill the whole layout and the Democratic party as well." So think all of us.

The two Helmsden deny that they have any affiliation with the demagog and Populism which are now trying to rule and old rule our party in 1899."

The hope felt in administration circles that the campaign in the Philippines may be postponed before the end of October may be disappointed.

It is stated that the late Cornelius Vanderbilt cast his vote at every election. He was an American citizen in fact.

RIGHT TO DIE.

Justice Simon R. Baldwin, of the Connecticut supreme court, in an address on "Man's Natural Right to Death," before the American Social Science association, took the ground that when a person is mortally ill it should be made lawful for doctors and nurses to stop him from prolonging his life and agony for a few days.

"Man has a natural right to die," said Judge Baldwin. "When death has set its seal on one, when life has nothing to offer but a prologation medical ethics compel doctors to fight for the prolongation of the use, less, hopeless life? It should be made illegal for them to do so."

These are diseases which naturally end in a speedy death, but may be treated as to lead to a prolonged state of suffering and weakness incompatible with any enjoyment of life or useful activity.

In uncivilized nations such diseases are of short duration. In civilized nations it has become the pride of many in the medical profession to prolong such lives at any cost of pain to the sufferer.

"The suffering, or at best the lethargic existence, is successfully protracted, but the body will soon function upon parts of it made for other uses, and death comes, to the relief of the dying and the living alike. To prolong a useless struggle means misery to the patient and profit to no one but the doctor and nurse."

AN ORDINANCE AGAINST IT.

Mayor Lang was displeased to hear this morning that some one at the speaking criticized him for declining to allow banners to be stretched across the street. He stated that such was against a city ordinance and he did not allow it when Goubel was here, and did not when Taylor was here, and would not and could not, under any circumstances, as he has no right to sanction or authorize a violation of the law.

NO INSPECTION.

Master Lang and the committee have not yet made their inspection of the "eye boxes" on Lower Broadway which everyone hopes will be condemned and suitable buildings erected in their stead as should have been done years ago. City Engineer Wilson and Fire Chief Wood are on the committee.
